

CUTTING EDGE PRODUCT CUTTING EDGE DIFFERENCE

Sioux Rubber & Urethane's HawkPad™ is the premier press pad for commercial die-cutting applications.

Its unique bonding of multi-layered hardwood to a custom blended urethane allows it to last 3x longer than traditional gum rubber press pads. Sioux Rubber & Urethane's proprietary EnduraWear™ urethane barrier allows deep, clean cuts through multiple materials in multiple patterns, multiple times, while also cutting production costs, labor, and material waste.

HAWKPADS CUT CUTTING PAD COSTS AT PAPER PACKAGING PLANT BY 51%

In a trial run with the HawkPad, a premier paper honeycomb manufacturer immediately noticed its remarkable durability. Previously, the manufacturer normally replaced its gum rubber press pads every six weeks. The HawkPad was still going strong four months and 562,000 cuts later. Not only did the HawkPad last longer, it also cut substantial labor and material costs due to its ease of installation and adaptability to multiple patterns and materials.

CUT SUPPLY COSTS

The HawkPad lasts 2x to 4x longer than its competitors, and its annual savings are substantial - up to $6,000 per year, per machine in material costs alone.

CUT LABOR COSTS

The HawkPad allows deeper, cleaner cuts all the way through the material, eliminating the need for labor intensive hand-punching and trimming.

CUT PRODUCTION TIME

The HawkPad lasts 2x to 4x longer than its competitors, and its annual savings are substantial - up to $6,000 per year, per machine in material costs alone.

CUT ANYTHING

The HawkPad is one of the most durable press pads in the industry due to its custom combination of premium multi-layered hard wood backing and EnduraWear™ urethane formula. It resists warping, dimpling, and shredding, even after a half million cuts.
